

Sco 10: Unit 1 final test

P1. Instructional objective:

1. Reviewing the four main passages of the unit.

P2: Final Test

[Instruction: The following questions are based on the four passages you have read. Answer them by choosing the best choice. You are allowed to move on to the next section after answering 5 questions correctly.

1. What were the planets named after?
a. Days of the week b. Roman gods
c. Roman goddesses d. Anglo-Saxon words
2. What day has come from the goddess of love and marriage?
a. Saturday b. Monday
c. Thursday d. Friday
3. What was discovered in 1783?
a. That the air belonged to birds and insects.
b. That man could finally leave the ground and fly.
c. That the first passengers to fly should be a group of animals.
d. That bags filled with hydrogen or hot air could rise and float in the air.
4. Why did people decide to first send animals up in the air?
a. To make sure flying was not harmful to them.
b. To suspend them in a wicker basket from the balloon.
c. To see what animal do when they go up in the air.
d. To find out when they land when they fly.
5. According to the passage "Numbers", how many types of number do we have?
a. 1 b. 2
c. 3 d. 4
6. Which of the following can be a reason for language change?
a. New words are produced when people communicate with each other.
b. New words are needed to talk about new objects or ideas.
c. New languages are created when people need to talk to each other.
d. New contacts between different people add to our vocabulary.